A CALMER EVERYDAY LIFE

THE PROBLEM

Knowing what to do is not the hard part.

The hard part is making the day work when energy, mental load and invisible demands keep changing.

Traditional tools

Tasks · time · reminders

Tells you what to do.

Real life

Energy · capacity · invisible work

Determines what's actually possible.

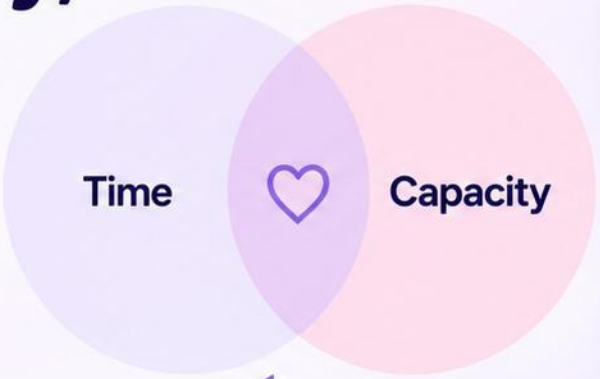

When demands exceed capacity, the person becomes the system.

THE INSIGHT

Plan for capacity, not just time.

A calendar tells you what's scheduled.

MyFlove helps you see what's actually reasonable today.

"You have three things scheduled today."

A CALENDAR SAYS

"Given how you are today, what is actually reasonable?"

MYFLOVE ASKS

THE MARKET — SWEDEN FIRST

A huge everyday need. We start in Sweden.

Support built for brains that work differently — beginning in our home market.

≈500 000

children and adults in Sweden live with ADHD or autism.

Source: Socialstyrelsen

~3 %

of Sweden's adults have ADHD — most without support that fits their brain.
